Toothache Testimony

I would like to share my testimony about a terrible toothache. One Sunday morning in November 2007, I had a sudden attack of extreme pain due to a toothache. Having suffered from this type of extreme pain before, I resigned myself to the fact (which I now realize is not fact) that I would have to have this tooth extracted to relieve this pain, as I had done on two previous occasions. No type of pain reliever worked in lessening the pain. I stayed home from church because the pain was so bad. A Servant of the Most High God (who I will refer to as Angel) called me after church service to see why I had missed the service. As I explained what was happening Angel said she was on her way over to my home. She arrived and had me to lie down in bed and she began to WAR in the spirit realm. I have had and heard of people pray healing prayers, but I had never experienced anything like this before. Angel began to plead the blood of Jesus, take authority over, cast out and bind pain, ache, infection, abscess, and other spirits and curses as the Holy Spirit led her. She began to loose healing and deliverance. After over an hour of warfare prayer in the spirit the pain completely left and the swelling went down. She prayed until the Holy Spirit released her. I have had no more pain and did not have to have my tooth extracted. ALL PRAISE, HONOR AND GLORY BELONG TO GOD MY HEALER, MY HEALTH AND MY STRENGTH. I pray this testimony is a blessing to the readers as to the GREATNESS OF OUR GOD AND HIS HEALING POWER.

My Personal Testimony

I had come to the end of me. With my best efforts, my way of living was yielding very little “joy” in life. I was frustrated, confused and had no more drive to keep living this way. I didn’t want to die but life was a chore. Church gave me the living word, fellowship and hope. But I also needed deliverance from the strongholds of my old self: worry, confusion, negative thinking habits and bad decisions. So I prayed and prayed some more. I had heard about deliverance but I didn’t know much about it. Then God led me to Andrelle Wiley. After beginning “Spiritual Therapy”, my soul was lifted to a clearer view of God’s will for my life and the Holy Spirit was able to fill my heart more than ever before. I truly felt the “Joy of the Lord”. Initially, my soul mourned the old self since I had lived that way for so long. But through the word of God and more spiritual cleansing, I am being released to serving God better and enjoying life. I am seeing life with “new eyes”. I am on my way to higher ground in Christ.

The 5- Step Process

As I began the process, I could feel the presence of God and knew I was going to receive a mighty deliverance. Andrelle is a light on a hill. God uses her mightily in this process. I knew she was truly being led by the Spirit of God because there were things she prayed over me that were in the hidden places of my heart, never revealed to any earthly person. If you are looking for a more intimate relationship with God, you would benefit from spiritual therapy.

At my second session (Tuesday), I had pain in my back and knees every since last Thursday. I had been wearing tennis shoes or flats for several days because of the pain. But when I walked out, praise God the pain was gone. And it has remained gone! I am still processing everything that happened on Tuesday. I really don't think I know to the full extent everything that God has done. I just know that He has truly delivered me.

You Can Be Free!

I am now living in more freedom than I ever have before. It is so uplifting to be rid of past hurts, resentments, feelings of rejection and abandonment. There are some pains that are so deep you need help to pray them out of your spirit. If you are struggling to move to the next level in your spiritual growth, think long and hard about getting spiritual therapy. You won't regret it!
